Words of the Week

revolution, preserve, restoration, extirpated, forb

Important Dates:

4/22-4/26: Earth Week!

4/23: Moraine Hills Field Trip (bus leaves at 8:30 AM)

5/6-5/10: Native American Week

Reading:

There will be no spelling this week. Only Words of the Week. We will be reading poetry based upon nature and different ecosystems. We will also continue our work with point of view, specifically first person and third person.

Writing:

Students will be participating in research projects based on different environmentalists and prairie animals.

S/SS:

We are moving forward in learning about the Revolutionary war and early Illinois. However, our lessons this week will be heavily based upon the environment and exploring nature.

MATH

This week we will be reviewing the concepts of unit 6. We will practice interpreting and analyzing data, plotting data on a line plot, and finding median, mode, and range. We will be heavily working on our division and multiplication strategies (ratio tables, area models, doubling and halving, and standard). We will also focus on word problems that incorporate fractions both in the problems and expressed as a remainder.
