

Mrs.O's

Classroom News

October 4, 2019

Needs

* On Thursday, 10/17 our grade band is selling cider to other students. We need a couple large carafe's for heating cider. Please email me if you have

In The Spotlight

Our classroom of kind learners. I am really proud of how naturally students in our class make sure all children are included and have a partner.

Upcoming Events

- * Thurs. 10/10 Early Release @ 1pm
- * Friday 10/11 No School
- * Monday 10/14 No School

Our Learning

4th Grade Math: Students will continue to learn about multiplication stories and strategies. Assessments from unit one came home last week. I am very proud of students success and comprehension. Keep up the good work! Multiplication facts are key for success, please continue to practice these at home for mastery. We will begin to study early division methods with remainders, which also incorporates multiplication skills.

Reading: Students participate in small reading groups each day. In these groups, we read leveled books and work on comprehension skills by asking guiding questions about the text. Third graders will begin reading the novel, The Chocolate Touch and fourth graders The Underworlds in class this week.

Science/Social Studies: On Oct. 17th we will be selling cider to the students in the 5/6 grade-band. Additionally, we will begin our Science unit about light.

Writing: Students completed the rough drafts of their personal narratives. We will work on self and peer editing skills in class this week.